Joan of Arc, by G. Max.

We do not know of any exercise which gives the patriotic American a more lively and grateful sense of the superiority of the best magazine literature in this country to periodical publications of the same class in Europe than turning over the pages of a bound volume of THE ATLANTIC MONTHLY. There is nothing in England which compares favorably with this excellent publication.—New York Tribune.

THE ATLANTIC MONTHLY,

EDITED BY

THOMAS BAILEY ALDRICH,

Numbers among its contributors John Greenleaf Whittier, Oliver Wendell Holmes, James Russell Lowell, Henry James, William D. Howells, Thomas Hardy, F. Marion Crawford, Harriet Beecher Stowe, E. C. Stedman, Elizabeth Stuart Phelps, Phillips Brooks, John Fiske, Mark Twain, Charles Dudley Warner, Edward Everett Hale, Horace E. Scudder, George Parsons Lathrop, W. H. Bishop, Sarah Orne Jewett, Charles Egbert Craddock, Charles Eliot Norton, and many others equally eminent.

TERMS: $4.00 a year, postage free; 35 cents a number. Remittances should be made by money-order, draft, or registered letter.

HOUGHTON, MIFFLIN & CO., PUBLISHERS, 4 Park St., Boston.

Of the magazine itself it would be superfluous now to say anything, it is so well established as the best representative of American periodical literature, which appeals to readers by its own charms.—New York Evening Post.

THE LITERARY WORLD.

A Fortnightly Journal of literature, devoted especially to reviews of new books.

FOUNDED IN 1870.

TERMS: $2.00 per year, postpaid.

E. H. HAMES & CO., PUBLISHERS,
1 Somerset St., Boston, Mass.

This is one of those magazines that are apt to make us literary gluttons, as we cannot peruse a single number but we call for more! more! more! We think much of the taste of the owner of the house where we find a number of this work lying on the parlor table — not confined to the study, but open to the family's perusal — for from these interesting pages may be gleaned a fair idea of what is passing in literary circles, and a selection made according to taste for more quiet study.— The Canadian.

The Literary World is candid in its criticisms, conservative in its opinions, conscientious in its commendations, and unsparing in its denunciations of immorality in literature. Its opinions are authoritative, and in following its lead for several years in buying books, we have never been misled. Indeed, it has been a money-saver in this respect, and we now always await its decisions regarding new books before we think of purchasing them. Its Shakespeariana department conducted by Mr. W. J. Rolfe, is full of interesting facts to every teacher and reader of Shakespeare, and its biographical and literary information is of great importance to every teacher of literature.— Educational Courant.

The American Architect and Building News.

[FOUNDED IN 1876]

*Is the Oldest, Largest, most Complete and most Handsomely Illustrated Weekly
Journal dealing with Architecture, Art and Decoration now published in this country.*

It is the endeavor of the editors to make the Journal interesting to the general public as well as to the members of the architectural profession.

This journal, in its modesty does not call itself an art journal, but for all that it is the most serious and learned periodical dealing with art published on this side of the ocean.— Magazine of Art.

The American Architect and Building News, published by Ticknor & Co., is the only really intelligently conducted journal relating to art matters in America, and one of the few in the world. It keeps well ahead of the average intelligence of its readers, and the public in all respects. It ought to be read by every person who is interested in art, and everybody ought to be interested.— New York Times.

The American Architect and Building News, although in name a technical journal is one of the most artistic periodicals in this country.— Boston Herald.
